Bay Meadows Airport To Ask Extensions For Race Passengers

The explosive Bay Meadows airport question which has rocked San Mateo periodically for years will be reopened again, airport officials notified the city planning commission this week.

Don Myers, airport vice president, said a 1500-foot runway extension will be asked. The purpose will be to permit two-engine DC-3 transport planes to land racing fans next door to Bay Meadows track.

George Mann, city councilman and commissioner asked Myers: "Won't that open up the whole deal again?"

Myers replied that "We want it fully opened up."

Such a proposal is considered virtually certain to arouse the opposition of South San Mateo residents who bitterly opposed expansion of the airport in the past and once brought a $1,000,000 damage suit against the owners.

Myers said the improvement would make Bay Meadows a first class airport and would provide a needed increase in the safety margin.

He said Bay Meadows Race Track had heavily subsidized the airport—to the tune of $150,000—and that the runway extension was needed to make a fair return possible to the stockholders.

William P. Kyne, rack track manager, wanted the runway completed in time for the opening of the racing season Sept. 13, the commission was told, but E. B. Stahm, city planning engineer, said that would be impossible under the necessary procedure.

The airport will have to file a request for a zoning variance permit on the runway. The commission would notify property owners nearby and the earliest hearing date would be Sept. 12. The issue could then be taken to the city council for final action at a date no earlier than Sept. 19.

Myers said Kyne had agreed to finance surfacing of the extended runway and that financing of new concrete hangars also would be possible if the permit were granted.

The commission was meeting in study session last night and had no official request before it. No action was taken.

Myers declared that a longer runway would permit all aircraft using the field to clear the Sunnybrae district at greater altitude. Many objections to plane noise during earlier disputes came from Sunnybrae residents.

Myers said the extension would increase the safety for nearby residents and for all aircraft in the area. If the permit is granted, he said, the hours of flight would be limited to daytime and restricted on week ends to prevent noise nuisances for nearby residents.

Earlier battles reached a climax in early 1947 when a consent decree ended the $4,000,000 suit brought by 406 South San Mateo residents. Before that the airport successfully fought off attempts to abate it in a dispute that raged through planning commission and city council meetings for months.

Veteran Dividend Forms Due Aug. 29

Dividend insurance forms for veterans will be available at the Redwood City Post Office on Aug. 29, the post office announced today.

Many veterans have been trying to obtain the forms but post office officials said they would not be available anywhere before Aug. 29.

Belmont Asks Curb Barrier For Parking

Belmont City Councilmen this week considered plans for erection of either a post or double curb barrier in the two-block wide portion of El Camino Real in order to obtain state permission for angle parking on the west side of the highway.

A year ago the state ordered the city to enforce a law prohibiting angle parking on state highways, which the city did although merchants along the strip have fought to regain angle parking.

Last April the city passed a resolution stating that the council favored angle parking on the west side of the highway and sent a copy of the resolution to the State Highway Division.

City Atty. Paul McCarthy last night presented the council with plans submitted by the state which call for the setting up of concrete posts which would divide off the widened portion of the highway and make it a one-way south-bound street.

McCarthy said that the property owners along the west side of El Camino Real would be willing to pay for the barrier, and that with it installed, the state would be willing to permit angle parking.

Councilman Donnell McCarthy presented an alternate plan calling for a double low curb with a narrow strip of lawn in the middle which councilmen seemed to favor in preference to the concrete posts.

Councilman McCarthy said that he objected to the use of the posts because they might be an eyesore and added that some of the property owners would be willing to pay the extra cost of putting in the double curb.

On McCarthy's motion the council voted to submit the alternate plant to the State Division of Highways for approval providing property owners would agree to pay for the cost of putting the barrier in.

The council also:

Voted to permit each of the city's three "toddle park" areas to spend up to $100 for improvements subject to council approval of the expenditures and for the purchase of a recording and public address system to be used by the Belmont 'Teen-Age Canteen.

Heard a report from Police Cmsr. Lyle Jones that the city court had collected $1892 in fines during the past month.

Authorized the city streets and sewers committee to arrange for the topping of trees along North Rd. at a cost not to exceed $500.

Belmont 'Teen-Agers See Navy Movies

Pete Folger of the Naval Recruiting Office in Redwood City showed motion pictures of life at Annapolis and the atomic bomb on Friday night when the Belmont 'Teen-Age Recreation group met at the parish house of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Belmont.

Following the showing, 'teen-agers danced and later refreshments were served by Diane Tedesco. Althea Tedesco and Lucy Nugent decorated the hall for the evening.

Belmont Asks SC to Study Sewer Plan

Belmont city councilmen this week voted to ask the San Carlos City Council to negotiate with the city of San Francisco over the interpretation of the 10-year-old agreement between San Francisco and San Carlos on the Hassler Health Home outfall sewer.

City Atty. Paul McCarthy declared that the controversy over the interpretation of the agreement should be settled so that if a sewer district is formed in the north Emerald Lake area and tied into the health home sewer it would have to pay a share of the proposed San Carlos-Belmont sewage disposal plant as well as part of the cost of treatment of the sewage.

He said that according to the agreement, approval of both San Francisco and San Carlos would be necessary before anyone could tie onto the sewer. However, McCarthy continued, H. C. Vensano, director of the department of public works in San Francisco, has interpreted the agreement as meaning that approval of San Carlos is only necessary in the portion of the sewer running through San Carlos.

McCarthy said he disagreed with Vensano's interpretation and believed the agreement covered the entire outfall sewer.

According to R. A. Klassen, former San Carlos city engineer, and engineer on the projected sewage disposal unit, the outfall sewer was built by San Francisco 10 year sago as a PWA project at a cost to San Francisco of only $28,000. Klassen said that the possibility of a tie-in from other areas was considered at that time and the sewer was designed to handle sewage from a total population of 17,000 persons.

Klassen said the idea was that if a district in Emerald Lake was formed it would reimburse San Francisco and they would pay a share in the cost of the sewage treatment plant and of the operating cost of the plant. This he said would be a savings to San Carlos and Belmont

About four years ago, Klassen said, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors passed a resolution permitting about 100 homes on the former Emerald Lake golf course property to tie into the sewer but required that they set up a treatment plant before the sewage entered the health zone sewer.

Klassen said San Carlos' approval was not asked. He said he brought the matter to the attention of San Carlos officials, but no action was taken. He declared two years ago he asked the council to enter into conference with San Francisco over Vensano's interpretation of the agreement but that City Atty. Carl Anderson claimed that Vensano's opinion was correct.

Both McCarthy and Klassen pointed out that a sewer district will have to be formed in the Emerald Lake area within the near future because of sanatation conditions.

Klassen said that under Vensano's interpretation, Emerald Lake could tie into the sewer and get a "free ride". This, he maintained, would be "of no benefit to either party," meaning San Carlos and San Francisco.

He said that the maximum capacity of the projected San Carlos-Belmont sewage disposal plant will be 25,000. He said that unless a settlement is made with San Francisco, if Emerald Lake used the plant and the 25,000 figure was exceeded, San Carlos and Belmont would have to pay for the enlarging of the plant.

MAULED BY DOGS—Four-year-old Stephen Keating was smiling a little today while resting at Mills Memorial Hospital after being attacked by two 95-pound dogs in San Mateo Tuesday. Stephen, son of the manager of Redwood City's Montgomery Ward store, was rescued by his mother after being bitten on his head and shoulders.

Belmont Hits Jockey Club Hauling Bid

The Belmont City Council this week referred to the city planning commission a request from the California Jockey Club to transport 56,000 yards of fill material across Belmont streets.

The actual quarry operations would be out of Belmont on Prospect St. between the San Carlos and Belmont city limits, but trucks carrying the fill would have to travel over streets in the Sunnyslope residential district.

County planning commissioners last Friday approved the application to move the dirt subject to favorable action by the Belmont council.

Frank Jackson, a Belmont contractor, told councilmen that Sunnyslope residents were opposed to the use of residential streets by the trucks and that petitions were being circulated to fight the application.

Acting Mayor Lester Reetz made the motion to refer the application to the planning commission. The motion passed 3-1, Councilman Edward LesVescomte opposing it. The application will be put on the agenda of the commission's Sept. 15 meeting.

Reetz told councilmen that since the property to be quarried eventually would probably be annexed to Belmont, the planning commission should investigate the matter and handle it as though the property were within the Belmont city limits.

Jackson said that the dirt would have to be hauled over 20-foot streets which were not built to carry heavy loads.

"These people are not interested in Belmont," Jackson declared. "They are interested in the California Jockey Club and Bay Meadows race track in particular."

He suggested that the city require the jockey club to pave streets and put in sewers after the dirt is removed. He said if the streets were not paved and sewers not in it would just bring more problems before the city.

Murray-Fowler Tire Co. Burglarized of $40

Redwood City police reported today that the Murray & Fowler Tire Co. on Jefferson Ave. near the Southern Pacific Co. tracks was burglarized of $40 Monday night.

Howling Dog Needs Pal, Council Rules

The wisdom of Solomon was exhibited by Menlo Park city councilmen this week in passing judgment in the "case of the howling dog."

They postponed official action, but gave out with some fatherly advice that seemed to meet with the approval of the protestants, the counter-protestants, the dog's owners, and even "Baron," the howling Doberman Pinscher.

The Wallace Hallmeyers of 1031 Berkeley Ave., were advised by the council to get another dog—not for the purpose of creating a howling duet—but to give the lonesome Baron some company.

Evidence presented at the public hearing, at which the Hallmeyers were ordered to show cause why the maintenance of the dog was not a nuisance, indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Hallmeyer leave the Menlo Park home about 7:30 every morning to go to work in San Francisco. That's when Baron gets lonesome.

Some of the protestants testified that the dog "howled continuously for three or four hours at a time." Other neighbors testifying on behalf of the Hallmeyers, claimed he never howled "more than a few minutes at a time" during the day.

When it was suggested that the Hallmeyers buy another dog to keep Baron company, Hallmeyer protested that another dog like his Doberman Pinscher show dog would cost about $250.

Councilman Wallace Brown suggested he go to the city pound and get a dog for $3, adding "that's where I get all my champions."

Mayor Charles Burgess agreed that Baron needed a companion, but not necessarily one of equal breeding.

Belmont Polio Victim Gaining

The C. A. Crowley family of Belmont received good news when they visited Mrs. Crowley's daughter, Duane Norris, 10, in Oakland Sunday.

On Monday of last week Duane was operated on for appendicitis at 11 p.m. at East Oakland Hospital. The next day the family visited her and found she had lost most of speech faculties. An examination showed she had contracted the bulbar type polio and she was transferred to the Highland Hospital in Oakland.

Sunday the Crowleys visited Duane and found she is "doing nicely."

SC Schools Need More Substitute Teachers

New substitute teachers will be needed this coming year for San Carlos schools according to Miss Ruth Melendy, superintendent. Many local women who have had teaching experience may be able to qualify for California certification on an emergency basis, she said.

Need for substitute teachers include kindergarten as well as elementary classes. Questions concerning qualifications may be brought to Miss Melendy at the superintendent's office, 826 Chestnut St., SC 2358.

Young Victim Of Dog Bites Recovering

Stephen Keating, 4-year-old victim of an attack Tuesday by two vicious escaped dogs in San Mateo, was reported in good condition this afternoon at Mills Memorial Hospital.

The boy was severely bitten near the left eye, but doctors said his sight was not endangered. He managed to smile for photographers.

Stephen was taken to the hospital shortly before noon Tuesday, his flesh torn in numerous places, his body described by police as a mass of black and blue bruises.

Poundmaster Edward Foss of San Mateo destroyed the two 95-pound dogs which had escaped from confinement on the Borel Ave. estate of Count Marc de Tristan. The huge dogs, part Boxer and part Great Dane, had been obtained as watchdogs after the kidnapping of young Marc de Tristan, then 3-year-old, Sept. 20, 1940.

The injured boy's father, Jack Keating, manager of the Redwood City Montgomery Ward store, said no word had been received from the de Tristans now touring Europe. Keating was notified by T. J. Redmond, who is renting the estate, that efforts were being made to report the incident to the Count.

Stephen was rescued from the beasts by his mother, who was summoned by an older brother, Jerry, 10. Jerry and Jimmy Thompson, also 10, tried to fight off the dogs at first by throwing stones at them. The attack occurred near the Keating home at 1221 Alameda de las Pulgas where the three youngsters were playing.

The huge dogs had escaped twice earlier yesterday morning, chewing through their ropes and a chicken-wire fence to get out.

Redmond said it had been impossible to keep the dogs confined. He had written the De Tristans to tell them the dogs were getting vicious and had received permission to have them destroyed last Saturday.

Poundmaster Foss was unable to get the dogs out of his truck after picking them up and taking them to the pound. They attacked each time an attempt was made to remove them. He finally pulled his pistol and shot them while they were in the truck.

SC Youth, Parents Sued for $56,847

A San Carlos youth and his parents were sued today for $56,847 by an Escalon rancher whose wife was injured in an automobile accident in San Mateo last Nov. 22.

The suit, filed in superior court by Aram Tashjian, 46, and his wife, Margaret, 30, named as defendants Leslie T. Mundell, 20, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mundell of 853 Cordilleras Rd., San Carlos.

According to the complaint, cars driven by young Mundell and Tashjian collided when the latter sought to make a left turn from Bayshore Hwy. toward the San Mateo-Hayward Bay Bridge. Mrs. Tashjian suffered injuries to her head and spine.

Judge, D.A. Urge No Frazier Leniency

The San Mateo County district attorney and the judge before whom Kermit Owen Frazier was tried, today asked the State Adult Authority to show "no leniency" to the murderer of Mrs. Mary L. Thompson of Atherton.

The recommendation was made in a statement signed by both Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis and Superior Judge Andrew R. Schottky.

They also asked that the prison terms, which is set by the Adult Authority, should be "very substantial."

Frazier, 34-year-old North Carolinian, on March 9 shot and killed Mrs. Thompson, 58, in her home at 102 Heather Dr., Atherton. He also seriously wounded Doris Thompson, 29, who had jilted him, and fractured the skull of Doris' twin sister, Sharle, who tried to protect her sister and keep Frazier from escaping.

After a three-week trial a six-man six-woman jury on Aug. 5 found Frazier guilty of second degree in Mrs. Thompson's death; guilty of assault with intent to murder Doris; and guilty of assaulting Sharle with a deadly weapon.

Judge Schottky sentenced Frazier to three consecutive terms at San Quentin, after telling him he should be thankful for the "traditional soft-heartedness" of San Mateo County juries.

Some of the jurors later said that they did not understand the law which can hold that a person who tries to kill one and thereby kills another is guilty of first degree murder.

"By finding the defendant guilty of assault with intent to commit murder," the district attorney's and the judge's joint statement read, "the jury believed that there was premeditation on the part of the defendant Frazier in planning to kill Doris.

"It is felt that a very substantial term should be set for the defendant, and that no leniency should be extended to him.

"It will be noted that the trial judge, on proceedings for sentence, told the defendant that the jury was very lenient with him, and sentenced him on the three counts to run consecutively, showing the feelings of said judge.

"The Thompson family is considerably worried that the defendant will make a further effort to inflict bodily harm on them, if and when released."

Ralston Ave. Bill Signed by Warren

Belmont City Atty. Paul McCarthy this week told city councilmen that as far as he could find out the bill passed by both houses of the state legislature, making Ralston Ave. a state highway, had been signed by Gov. Earl Warren and would go into effect within a month.

McCarthy said he had contacted Sen. Harry Parkman who told him that the bill had been signed. McCarthy said the bill would go into effect 90 days after the day of adjournment of the legislature.

Early this year, the council passed a resolution asking the legislature to make Ralston Ave. from Bayshore Hwy. to the Canada Rd. a part of the state highway system.

Lighting Costs Hit in Belmont

Belmont City Councilman Edward LesVesconte this week told fellow councilmen he felt $200 a year was an excessive cost for the city to pay to light neon signs on El Camino Real and Bayshore Hwy. informing motorists that they are entering Belmont.

LesVesconte said that the contract for the two lights expires in October and that he felt the $600 cost for the three year period was "too much." He suggested that the signs be eliminated.

The council postponed action until an adjourned meeting on Sept. 6. LesVesconte said that the reflector sign on Bayshore Hwy. is now sufficient since a signal has been put in at the Ralston Ave. intersection.

Ed Yearing Wins Photograph Contest

Ed Yearing of San Carlos, frequent winner in photograph competitions in the Hub Pictorialists, won a first again Thursday night when that group met for its monthly judging of prints.

Winner in the first salon group, Yearing's picture was of an arrangement of daisies.

Will Larsen of Redwood City was given second place in the salon showings with a portrait of an elderly gentleman intent upon reading his Bible.

John Bottini of San Carlos received first place in the advanced group and Ed Learned of San Mateo was named first in the regular group.

The exhibit was shown at Painter's Hall in Belmont and judged by a committee of four.

Refreshments were served following the meeting. Next month's competition will feature land or sea scapes.

7 Relief Corps Members Attend Luncheon in SC

Seven members of the Gen. George S. Evans Woman's Relief Corps attended the Home Day at the Woman's Relief Corps home in San Carlos Saturday.

A potluck luncheon was served under the trees at the home and was attended by some 200 guests representing all the corps in the Bay Area.

Highlight of the afternoon was a fashion show staged by the women of the home who range in age from 80 to 90 years. Gertrude Salisbury of San Jose, department inspector, was the commentator for the day.

Present from Redwood City were May Monroe, president of the local corps; and members Ida Thompson, Daisy Barteaux, Bessie Mansfield, Mary Winter, Anna Bennet Robb and Blossom Kohnen.

The local corps will sponsor a series of three card parties beginning Friday. The second will be held Sept. 23 and the last one will take place on Oct. 28.

County Planning Meeting Sept. 29

The first of what may become regular meetings of planning commissioners from cities throughout San Mateo County will be held Sept. 29 in San Mateo.

The San Mateo Planning Commission, which made the suggestion, said favorable responses had been received from six cities. George Mann has been authorized to arrange a place and issue invitations to planning commissions in all cities.

The meetings were suggested to promote an exchange of ideas and lead to greater coordination of city planning.

Original Fire Bell Returned Here

Redwood City's original iron fire alarm bell has been returned to the city fire department.

Chief Joe Lodi announced today that through the efforts of Mamie Glennan, 1720 Middlefield Rd., the bell was found in San Gregorio and given back to the department.

Mrs. Glennan is the widow of the late Chief John W. Glennan and a follower of this ex-lumber town's history.

The history of the large bell is a little vague. Chief Lodi said that records of the volunteer department showed that it was bought for $184.25 in 1864 from J. W. Ackerson. Shortly after it was purchased the bell was mounted on the Main St. station which was torn down several months ago.

Evidently the new bell intrigued the early smoke eaters because an 1865 department rule set a fine of $5 for any department member who rang it when there wasn't a fire.

Later a new bell was purchased and the old one discarded. It turned up later at the San Gregorio ranch of Mrs. E. R. Bell where it was used as a dinner bell. Mrs. Bell told Mrs. Glennan, and the department reclaimed its bell.

Redwood City's department is one of the oldest in the state and at one time consisted of a number of volunteer companies. Later it was joined to the city government and finally the late Chief Mark Ryan turned it into a full-time department.

The city still owns an old piano-style hand pumper which is now at the Sutter Museum on loan.

The bell which replaced the iron bell is of bronze. It was last rung when the Japanese surrendered and is now at the city corporation yard.

Burglary Wave in SM County Over Weekend

San Mateo County was the scene of a wave of burglaries during the weekend, but the thieves escaped with relatively little loot.

The sheriff's office reported that burglars who had the earmarks of being amateurs again broke into the office of the Starlite Drive-In theater, Belmont, and tried to force the safe.

On a previous occasion, the theater was burglarized and the thieves got away with $850 after breaking off the combination of the safe.

The new safe, a 400 pound one, resisted the efforts of the burglars.

Dep. Sheriff Delbert Creeks said that the burglars drilled four ⅛-inch holes in the door of the safe around the combination, but that only one of the holes pierced the thick steel. The burglars, who were beleived to be using an electric drill, broke three drill bits.

Crooks said that the burglars either ran out of bits or were scared away before they finished the job.

The burglary occurred between 1:40 and 7:40 a.m. Sunday, according to the sheriff's office. Edward C. Diehl, 1301 Second Ave., San Mateo, the manager of the theater, told the deputies that the safe contained a "considerable amount of money" but did not specify the exact amount.

The burglars apparently worked hurriedly, Crooks declared, since they could have been visible from Harbor Blvd., or possibly even from Bayshore Hwy.

A desk light, usually left on in the office, had been turned off, probably so the burglars could use the light socket for the electric drill. But the office was partly illuminated by a large electric clock on the wall above the safe.

The second burglary occurred between 2:30 a.m. and daylight Monday.

Ocean Shore Police Chief William Regan said that thieves broke into Dick's Cafe, Old County Rd., Sharp Park, and stole a money sack containing about $100 in small change.

They made no attempt to open the cafe's safe, which Albert Sohl and Otto Herling, the operators, told Regan contained about $3000.

Entrance to the cafe was made by cutting off the back door hasp with bolt cutters.

Chester Vargas reported to the sheriff's office Sunday that his cabin near La Honda had been cleaned out by thieves who apparently broke in to it on two occasions.

The first burglary, about two weeks ago, resulted in the loss of about $25 worth of groceries, a blanket, a radio and $12 in cash. When Vargas returned to his cabin this weekend he found that the burglars had struck again, and cleaned out the rest of the groceries.

Carlos Schools to Open ...h Largest Teaching Staff

Legion Hits FHA, Asks New Home Aid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's American Legion delegates believe that FHA restrictions are putting low cost housing out of the reach of moderate income families.

Rollins MacFayden has been appointed by Rex Whittemore, past commander of the California Legion, to present the matter at the national convention which starts in Philadelphia next Monday.

MacFayden's plan calls for a drastic overhaul of Federal Housing Authority policies and a new 3 per cent home financing program. If the national convention okehs the idea, MacFayden said, the legion will exert pressure on Congress to have FHA restrictions relaxed.

Last April 9 Gilbert Morris, president of the American Society of Building Officials, announced he would ask the society to fight the FHA rules. Morris is superintendent of buildings for the City of Los Angeles—and a legionnaire.

The trouble with FHA, says Morris and MacFayden, is this:

Most lending agencies will finance only building projects on which they can get an FHA guarantee. "Yet these requirements call for innumerable expensive operations that don't necessarily improve construction or increase the value," says Gilbert.

3 Persons Killed In Fresno Crash

FRESNO (AP)—Three persons were killed just before midnight last night in a truck-car collision on Hwy. 99 south of here.

The dead were identified as George W. O'Donley, 54, his wife, Mollie O'Donley, 47, and Lillian Lipking, 41, all of Fresno.

The highway patrol reported the car O'Donley was driving collided with a truck driven by Paul Howard Smith at the intersection of Hwy. 99 and Central Ave. Mrs. O'Donley and Mrs. Lipking were passengers in the car which was traveling west on Central Ave., and another passenger, Henry Lipking, 48, suffered minor injuries.

Roseville Shows Cash Shortage

ROSEVILLE (AP)—An Dutiro's report to the city council today revealed a shortage of $11,445.50 in the municipal utility account.

The suit covered the 1947-48 fiscal year but the report said the shortage existed prior to that time.

E. T. Botts, 61, city controller who was in charge of the utility account, was found shot to death in his home Aug. 15, a few days after the city council had ordered an audit of his accounts. Botts was bonded for $5000.

Miss Mae McGinnis, formerly bookkeeper in the utility department, has been named acting controller pending a civil service examination to fill the position.

Roseville's municipal utilities are its principal sources of revenue.

Woodside Fire District Opens, Awards $57,013 Bid for Two New Fire Stations

Bids on two new fire stations in the Woodside Fire Dist. were opened and awarded yesterday afternoon by the fire district board of commissioners.

Low bidder on the new main station was the S and Q Construction Co. of San Francisco which bid $52,988 on the station and $4025 on a drill tower, a total of $57,013.

Sundquist Bros. of Menlo Park were awarded the bid on the Emerald Lake station at $19,144. Fourteen contractors bid on the Emerald Lake station and 10 on the central station.

According to Fire Chief John Volpiano, bids came in considerably under preliminary estimates, especially in the case of the main station.

San Carlos Schedules Series of Play Day Events Tomorrow as Finale for Its Summer's Recreation Program

Winding up the summer activities at the Recreation Center in San Carlos tomorrow, a general day will open with tennis tournament finals at 9:30 a.m.

James Mason's baseball team will play the boys from Redwood City at a 10 o'clock game and an archery contest will be held at 1:30. The day will be climaxed with an exhibition of folk dancing given both by Mary Jo Oakley's class of children and Gertrude Broderson's adult students.

Finalists in the ping pong tournament are playing today, and on Saturday the young riders who took horseback riding in a recreation department-sponsored class this Summer will stage a horse show at Portola Ranch.

Several innovations were introduced this year, Warren Hayden, recreational director, said today. Horseback riding, given for the first time, brought out 80 children who were instructed both in the ring and in cross-country riding by Russell H. Seymour of the Portola Ranch.

A class in dramatics was also given for the first time, with Margaret Price coaching a group of upper grade school boys and girls. Central School Principal Emmett Mahoney has taken youngsters by special bus to Children's Theater productions in Palo Alto, and a group of 50 children was scheduled to attend a performance of "Blue Bird" this afternoon at the Palo Alto Community Center.

Bowling, also offered for the first time, was taught by Frank DeBarberie at the San Carlos Bowling Center. Thirty enrollees took the course.

One-hundred-forty-four San Carlos children took the swimming lessons given by the Flood Park staff. Betty Ann Thompkins directed 240 children in handicraft classes at the White Oaks and Arundel Schools. Shellcraft and clay molding were two of the main projects, and displays of work done were given recently at both schools.

Phyllis Thom has had charge of tennis classes for nearly 150 young persons and she also instructed archery classes. James Mason directed baseball; Mary Jo Oakley, third grade teacher at White Oaks School, gave folk dancing to the youngsters while Gertrude Broderson continued her regular classes for women.

These were only the chief signup activities, while ping pong, softball and volleyball were part of the every day program, Hayden pointed out. Yvonne Gineste took charge of games and Ralph Brennan and Margaret Lilly directed softball at the White Oaks playground. Howard Fry and Jovanne Bellingeri directed games at the Arundel play field. Jane Sears has been in charge of the small play area at the center during the Summer, where she directed games and read stories to the pre-schoolers.

Counting each child's participation at the various centers, the total count reached 26,505 children participating during the month of July.

Dutch Pardons Three Fliers Convicted of 'Running Guns'

BATAVIA, Java (AP) — The Dutch high commissioner today pardoned three American fliers convicted last January by a Netherlands court on charges of running guns into Indonesia, a U. S. Consulate spokesman said.

Freed were Albert W. Onstott, Yuba City, Calif., Connie W. Seigrist, Vian, Okla., and William Hallam, Portland, Ore. They had been sentenced to prison terms ranging from 18 months to four years.

The three men were picked up in Indonesian waters last September with a Catalina Flying Boat loaded with small arms and ammunition. They contended they thought the equipment they were delivering was for Malayan planters fighting Communists and not for Indonesian Republicans fighting the Dutch.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Three American fliers, the Daily Oklahoman says, have been pardoned by the Dutch government from a conviction of arms smuggling.

The newspaper identified them as Albert W. Onstott, Yuba City, Calif., Connie W. Seigrist, Vian, Okla., and William E. Hallam, Portland, Ore. Onstott was sentenced to six years, Seigrist four and Hallam 18 months. They have been held in Java jails since last September.

The newspaper said the State Dept. immediately sent new passports to Batavia for the three fliers.

"The Dutch government statement said the pardons were given 'not on purely legal grounds but due to pressure on the case from America'" the Oklahoman said.

After the war the three fliers began a small airline in Manila. They agreed to fly surplus arms for a British subject to Java.

The fliers claimed since they made such flights before to help arm loyal insurgents, they believed the arms shipment to be legal.

They were arrested on a British police boat at Airaboe and released to Dutch authorities without extradition. After three months solitary confinement, they were tried and convicted of smuggling. A subsequent appeal was denied.

PG&E Land Value Set by Company

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission today set, as a fair price, $13,917,000 to be paid Pacific Gas & Electric Co. for its land and property taken over in 1942 by the Sacramento Municipal Utilities Dist.

The original estimate, at the time of purchase, was $11,632,000, and after condemnation proceedings in Sacramento's Superior Court, this was fixed as a valuation, subject to modification.

Subsequently PG & E made a showing that it had greatly improved the property, and asked an additional $2,285,000.

Fairfield Roads Completion Set

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Completion of the four-lane by-pass of Fairfield was scheduled today for Sept. 1.

The State Public Works Dept. set the goal in order to have the improved roadway ready for the increased traffic expected on U. S. 40 during the state fair in Sacramento, opening Sept. 1 for 11 days.

Two lanes of the 4.7-mile long Fairfield by-pass were opened to traffic July 2. The new route cuts 1.3 miles off the one leading through Fairfield.

Veteran AP Man Dies in Tacoma

TACOMA (AP)—Edward F. Nelson, 66, veteran Associated Press editor who retired from the San Francisco bureau in Sept. 1946, died here yesterday.

Nelson was visiting his mother, Mrs. Amansa Auss. He died of a heart attack after a trip to the railroad station to buy his tickets to return to his San Mateo home.

He was Associated Press Correspondent in Portland from 1920 to 1928 when he went to Denver, as news editor.

Crime of Robbery Leads Convictions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — It's the crime of robbery which sends most men behind California prison bars.

The State Department of Corrections noted today that 21 per cent of all adult males were convicted robbers. In a report to Governor Warren burglary was ranked second with 18 per cent and forgery third at 15 per cent. Homicides and sex offenses contributed 10 per cent each.

MASCOT CANDIDATE—Will "Fifi" be the mascot for the Redwood City Community Chest? Judges will decide who the mascot will be after entries are all in. Deadline to enter your pet in the mascot contest is Saturday. "Fifi" the goat belongs to Bobbie Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of Woodside. The red feather shown in Bobbie's pocket is the Chest emblem. Any type of pet is eligible to enter the contest. The winner, whose owner will receive a table model radio, will help the Community Chest in raising $40,500. Two runnersup will be awarded cameras. Entries should be mailed to the Mascot Contest, Redwood City Community Chest, P.O. Box 731.

Merchants Petition Asks Local Man for Police Chief

Eighty-five Redwood City merchants this week petitioned City Mgr. E. A. Rolison to "give very deep consideration" to the appointment of a police chief from present city police department personnel. The petition was circulated by Abe Jacobs of Redwood Town Shop and by Charles Mitchell of Mitchell's Bootery.

"We feel that our efficient police department is built up of men capable to carry on the excellent work of our retiring Chief Collins," said the petition, "and therefore want to go on record of requesting you to give very deep consideration to an appointment of a man within the department for the good of the department and the morale of the men.

"It is the ambition of every man to raise in rank through efficiency and experience—we do feel that we have such men with the qualifications within the department to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Chief Collins."

It concluded: "For an efficient cooperative department we are" followed by the signatures.

Among them: Walter W. Hilton, former mayor; Keith Cole, Sequoia High School trustee; Emil Steinegger, city planning commissioner; L. E. Werder; Dan Lebo; Gray Thorning; Donald Bogie, and Otis Carrington.

"We could have had 500 names," Jacobs declared.

He explained that the merchants feel that the members of the department of customers of Redwood City stores, and that by making an effort to win the appointment for a member of the department the merchants are acting for the benefit of their customers.

RC Man Nipped, Asks Dog Check

A. D. Patterson, 419 Bradford St., Redwood City, a PG&E meter reader, today advocated more stringent regulations on dogs throughout the country. He exhibited his left index finger as evidence.

Patterson said he lost a half inch of his finger to a black Scotty dog at 2190 Menlo Ave., Menlo Park, on Aug. 18. He was reading a meter there, he said, when he was bitten on the foot by the dog.

He said he was examining the wound when the dog approached a second time. He grabbed the dog by the neck. It turned and bit off the end of his finger. Patterson is now undergoing plastic surgery for repairs. He said Menlo Park police have ordered the dog impounded for a brief period to check rabies.

Menlo Park Area Residents To Get New Drainage System

Residents who were flooded out of their homes in the unincorporated area west of Menlo Park last Winter should be able to keep the water from their doors during the coming rainy season.

The San Mateo County board of supervisors late yesterday authorized County Engineer M. A. Grant to install a drainage system at an estimated cost of $15,628.

Part of the area, in the old Escondite and Martin tracts, is in the city of Menlo Park, and Grant said that Menlo would pay $2500 of the construction cost.

The area which was flooded out last year lies west of Santa Cruz Ave., in a hollow into which the hills west of Menlo Park drain.

Grant said that 55 property owners signed a petition asking for the installation of the drainage system, citing the hazards to health. Furnaces in the area were flooded out last Winter in the old subdivision which the county accepted years ago without improvements.

The water is to be drained northward to Valparaiso Ave., for disposal through Atherton, Grant declared.

The supervisors yesterday also:

Directed representatives of the district attorney's and county engineer's offices to attend state board of equalization hearings on the application of the California Water Service to raise rates in two areas in the county.

The first hearing, for the San Mateo area, is on Sept. 29 in the San Mateo city hall, and the second, for the Atherton, Menlo Park and Woodside area, is on Sept. 30 in the council chambers at the Menlo Park city hall. Both meetings are at 10 a.m.

Ordered publication of invitations for sealed bids for $1,500,000 in tax anticipation notes to provide funds for operating the county government until taxes are received this year.

Passed over County Executive Frederick Peterson's veto a $1077 claim by architests Douglas Dacre Stone and Lou B. Mulloy for plans for the new kitchen at the Crystal Springs Home, for tuberculosis patients who will be housed there during construction of a new sanitorium.

El Camino's History Told RC Optimists

One hundred years ago, El Camino Real was a dusty trail not even known by that name, according to Dr. F. M. Stanger who addressed the Optimists Club in Redwood City Tuesday.

The famous "king's highway" was known locally as "El Camino Para San Francisco" or "Para San Jose" depending on which way the traveler was headed, said the executive secretary of the San Mateo County Historical Society.

His address pictured the Peninsula as it was 100 years ago. It was an area of vast ranches, with a scattering of adobe dwellings. The Fall of 1849 marked the use of the first stage coaches between San Francisco and San Jose (fare $32 or two ounces of gold), and the first roadhouses.

The first roadhouse, Dr. Stanger said, was "Angelo's", founder unknown—a tent house in Menlo Park. Another was established in the old Mission hospice in San Mateo by one De Peyster. These were the forerunners of the "mile houses" which still dot El Camino Real.

It was in 1849 that American wagons made their appearance on El Camino.

It was also the time when men began to return from the "diggings," either in search of a place to invest their money or to find employment to earn some. The early lumber mills in the Searsville region provided some employment. The Port of Ravenswood had been established, and it was not until later that Dr. Tripp of Woodside store fame found that Redwood City offered better shipping facilities. There was no Redwood City in 1849.

Dr. Stanger was introduced by Bert Holmes.

Nude Woman Too Much, Says Complaint

It was bad enough that her husband would not talk to her, a San Bruno woman charged today, but on one occasion he brought a nude, drunk woman into her home.

The charge was made in a divorce suit filed this week in superior court here by Mrs. Mary V. Smyer, 766 Walnut Ave., San Bruno.

Mrs. Smyer is charging her husband, Hugh Lee Smyer, a shovel operator, with extreme cruelty.

Smyer, his wife claimed, on many occasions went home drunk and refused to enter the house. Instead, he would stay outside in his car all night, she stated.

On Feb. 6, 1947, Mrs. Smyer claimed, her husband "while intoxicated brought into the family home an intoxicated woman who was nude."

On numerous occasions, Mrs. Smyer continued, her husband refused to talk to her "for no reason at all."

The couple married on May 11, 1945, in Reno, and separated on Dec. 1, 1948. There is one child, Raymond, 2.

Mrs. Smyer wants the court to award her "reasonable" alimony, all the community property, and custody of the boy.

KofC Adds 25 Candidates

San Mateo Council 1346, Knights of Columbus, added 25 new candidates at its recent meeting. Officers who conferred the first degree on the new members were Grand Knight John R. McQuaid, Deputy Grand Knight Maurice McCormick, acting Chancellor Anthony Giannotti, and Warden Clarence McDermott.

MP Fire Chief Urges Caution

Children playing with matches caused six of eight fires in the Menlo Park area during the last week, Fire Chief Thomas Cuff said today.

"Parents should take every precaution to prevent their children from playing with matches," Chief Cuff advised. "Not only are fires likely to be started, but another source of possible danger is created. Every time fire equipment is called out, there is possibility of accident or injury.

"I ask all parents to make sure that their children do not play with matches."

When you call the family taxi, need a telephone for any reason, have you noticed one always seems handy?

"Come get us, daddy, the movie's over"

1. It doesn't just happen there's a public telephone not far away when you look for it. Locations have been carefully selected to make sure service is where it's needed most... in theatres, filling stations, drug stores, terminals. And special installations are often made to meet the needs of crowds—at conventions, fairs and the like. Today there are some 85,000 public telephones at work in the West.

2. More errands run, more jobs done, more time saved for you... telephone service has many duties. And public telephones make service still more valuable by putting all telephones, both residence and business, within convenient reach... no matter where you may be. More and more are going in, too... as we keep pushing our job of furnishing good, well-rounded telephone service to the West.

3. Good service for you comes from the big job of handling millions of calls every day. But the extras mean a lot, too—like putting telephone booths in handy places. They add up to keep your service one of today's best buys.

Your telephone is one of today's biggest bargains
